Sets final boundaries

District cuts positions

By Jack Sexton

Upland School district officials have approved a preliminary budget for 1976-77 and a final plan for school district boundaries.

The $7.4 million tentative budget will mean a two to three cent tax increase and the layoffs of 6½ certified personnel positions, 24 part-time instructional aides and one full-time director of operations.

No increase in salary is included for any district employee in the budget as it stands. According to district Business Manager Glenn Hardy, no salary raises will be provided in the final budget, scheduled for adoption Aug. 3.

The elimination of the 24 teacher's aides positions will mean a savings of $42,313 to the district. By the reassignment of two counselor positions to classrooms, the district will save $31,451. Aides in the mentally gifted minor, handicapped and other special programs are state funded and will not be affected by the personnel cutbacks.

The tentative budget is an $338,898 increase over the 1975-76 budget and allocates $20,000 more to capital improvements, including $17,000 for roofing at Pioneer Junior High School and $9,000 for a playground sweeping machine.

The tentative budget may be changed before the July publication budget. According to Hardy, foreseeable changes might include those necessary to comply with any legislation coming out of Sacramento between now and the finalization of the budget. Also, bargaining under the Rodda act involving teachers has not yet taken place and may affect the budget in its final form.

A final version of the change in attendance boundaries for seven of Upland's nine elementary schools was approved June 8 by the district's board of trustees.

Under this version, attendance areas for Baldy View Citrus, Sierra Vista and Sycamore will increase and those of Magnolia, Cabrillo and Valencia will decrease.

The measure to change the attendance boundaries resulted from faster population growth in the north part of Upland than in the south.

Current fifth graders will not be transferred to new schools. The two junior high schools will not have their attendance areas changed despite pleas from Pioneer that the school was overcrowded.

Eighty-three students living north of the Atchison-Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad tracks, south of Arrow Highway and between Mountain and Central Avenues will not be transferred from their current school, Cabrillo, to Baldy View.

"They're walkers," Superintendent Bill Plaster explained. The plan had originally called for the students to be bused to Baldy View but protests from parents brought about a change in the plan by the board.

The board refused an appeal by the parents of 31 students living between Euclid and San Antonio Avenues, in an area bordered by 17th and 18th streets who are to be transferred from Magnolia to Sierra Vista.

Attendance boundaries for the upcoming school year are as follows:

Baldy View: the area bordered by Santa Fe Railroad tracks, Foothill Boulevard, Euclid and Mountain Avenues and the area between Mountain and Benson Avenues between Shannon and 24th streets.

Cabrillo: The Santa Fe Railroad tracks, east to Mountain, north to 13th Street, West to Wilson Avenue, north to Brenda Court, east to Wedgewood Avenue, north to Aster Street, east to Mountain, north to Shannon east to Benson, south to Foothill, east to the County line and south to the railroad tracks.

Citrus: The area between the Santa Fe Railroad tracks and the San Bernardino Freeway between Benson and Euclid.

Magnolia: Foothill at San Antonio, east to Euclid, north to 17th, west to Mountain, south to 15th, east to San Antonio and south to Foothill.

Sierra Vista: Foothill Boulevard at Euclid east to Campus Avenue, north to 24th street, west to Euclid, south to 20th street, west to San Antonio, south to 17th.

Sycamore: Foothill at Mountain east to San Antonio north to 15th, west to Mountain, North to Aster, west to Wedgewood, south to Brenda, west to Wilson, south to 13th, east to Mountain and south to Foothill. Also, the area between 20th and 17th streets between Mountain and San Antonio.

Valencia: All areas north of a line extending from 24th at Benson east to Mountain, south to 20th, east to Euclid, north to 24th, and west to Campus.

The plan for the reapportionment of attendance districts is expected to be in effect for five years keeping the attendance levels at the involved schools at or below 600, which is the maximum number of students they are designed to hold.

Plaster said no action is being taken regarding the complaints that Pioneer Junior High School is overcrowded.

"The assumption is that it is overcrowded. It is not overcrowded. We have the equivalent of five classrooms empty each hour," he said.

He explained that teachers have one hour each of non-scheduled time to prepare for classes. During that time, the teacher's classroom goes unused.

Plaster indicated that if the number of students made it necessary, the teachers would be required to go to the lounge to prepare for classes, leaving more open classrooms. This would give a total of 30 more available classrooms during each day he said.

Chaffey College is accepting registration for summer session and the fall semester.

Summer registration will be held through June 25 with classes slated July 6-Aug. 13. Students can take up to nine units. Health fee is 25 cents. There is no tuition fee.

For information on enrollment procedures, call the admissions office, 987-1737, ext. 260.

Frisbee golf, Indian olympics, pet show, superstars

Upland slates special summer events throughout the inter mountain area and appeared in films as well as at colleges, high schools and elementary schools.

According to Miss Caldwell, performers uses only face, hands and body for communication in mime. Pantomime uses props and music. There is no verbal communication in either mime or pantomime.

Miss Caldwell will begin by teaching mime walks, leans and ropes, then go into characterization, teaching the students who to portray different characters such as an old man, little girl and a shy person. Impromptu performances and routines will also be emphasized.

The class will last six weeks and will take place at 123

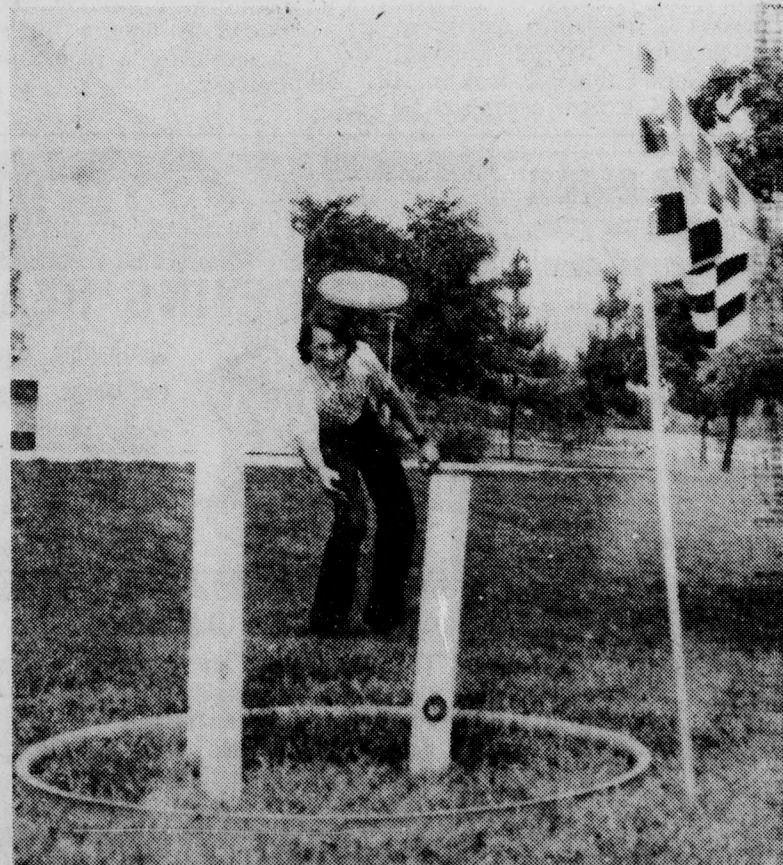

E. D St., in the cellar. Nine to 13 year-olds will meet 1-2:30 p.m. Mondays. Teenagers, 14 and older will meet 2:30-4 Mondays.

Classes will begin Monday. Fee for the class is $12. Preregistration is required at Upland Recreation Department, 404 N. Second Ave.

Another special class is "Acting for Fun." Instructor Dick Reinhard will use several forms of drama to develop acting skills. At the end of the six-week class, a one-act play will be performed.

Claim forms and instructions may be obtained at 1063 W. Sixth St., Ontario or by calling 983-3566.

Tentative budget approved

The Central School District Board of Trustees approved a tentative budget Tuesday that included an estimate that taxes will increase 11 cents.

Next school year's general purpose school tax for the northern Cucamonga district was estimated in the budget at $2.59. The current rate is $2.42 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The projected tax increase is not tied to actions of the Central school board, which did not levy any new permissive taxes.

Instead, the increase was attributed to the formula established under the state school finance system. Some 8 cents of the 11-cent tax increase is due to a required increase in the repayment rate on state loans used to finance past construction projects, a district spokesman said.

The tentative $2,464,628 budget is subject to modification as firmer data is received before the final budget is adopted in August.

The tentative budget for next school year represents a 12 per cent increase over the current budget.

Approximately $50,000 was included in next school year's budget for the hiring of four new teachers.

Included in the tentative budget is a $139,000 reserve account, which represents approximately six per cent of the budget.

SENIOR HOMEOWNERS — Supervisor Daniel Mikesell (left) and housing counselor David Hernandez consider the repair work to be completed on the Enrique Vasquez home in Cucamonga under the repair service program for senior citizens, sponsored by the Office of Community Development. Teams of trained senior workers and youth trainees are performing minor repairs for low and moderate-income Cucamonga senior citizen homeowners.

Nine locals grid picks

Nine West End football players have been selected to play in the inaugural High Desert Classic All-Star game, pitting the "City Slickers" versus the "Country Boys."

John Tyree, head football coach at Fontana High School, will head the squad from the Inland Empire. Ken Garver, Victor Valley Junior College grid boss, will coach the desert area all-stars.

Among the "City Slickers" will be five players from Fontana and a pair from both Upland and Chino. Those Steelers from Tyree's team include Lester Waleszonia, Rueben Henderson, Ron Davis, Dennis Johnson and Mike Dragoon.

Chino players include Rick Riedel and Marty Edens, while Gary Carr and Mike Rees will represent Upland.

The game will be played Saturday night, Aug. 7, at Ray Moore Stadium in Victorville.

"We're going up there to win," said Tyree. "We're trying to put together the best team we possibly can. Each school that responded had at least one player selected."

Tyree noted, however, three of the bigger Inland Empire schools failed to respond. "We didn't receive anything from Chaffey, Redlands or Colton," said the Fohi coach.

Selecting the team has been the biggest chore to date, bigger than obtaining sanctions from both the NCAA and CIF. According to Tyree, no coach sent him on any player.

"We had promises to do so, but we failed to get any film," said the Slickers head coach. "We had each coach rate their players from one to six, and we did a lot of calling and checking on the players submitted." He asked all players contacted to respond, since the history of such affairs indicates there is a high rate of dropouts.

"We don't want to end up with 20 running backs and no defensive ends," Tyree commented. "There are some players listed as alternates now, but they could get to play if someone doesn't show."

"We're going to play to win," he added, "we want all the players to know beforehand that we'll expect 100 per cent from each one of them."

Tyree stated it's not too late for an area coach to call in an alternate. "We're going to play this by ear, since it's the first game, but I imagine we'll be using plenty of alternates in the game."

Tyree will be assisted by two separate coaching staffs. The Steeler boss will head the offense and will be aided by Fontanans Gary Honaker, Al Blair, Walter O'Farrell, Phil Hughes and John MacKinney. With the exception of Honaker, a Fontana school trustee, and O'Farrell, all are members of Tyree's Fohi staff.

Bill Christopher, head coach at Eisenhower in Rialto, will join Tyree as defensive co-ordinator. Tom Hoak, Roger Harward, Sid Gilbreath and Keith Bailey will aid Christopher.

Christopher served as defensive co-ordinator under Tyree for a year before being selected to the head position at Ike last year.

The first practice session for the Slickers will be Sunday, July 25, at Fohi at 6:30 p.m.

Panthers add trio

Chaffey College has announced the addition of three football coaches to serve under new head mentor Mike Merandi.

They are Larry Korpitz, Tim Rhames and Greg Newhouse. Returning from last year's staff will be Pete Merandi and Lou Farrar.

Korpitz formerly coached at the University of New Mexico, where his duties included head football scout and assistant coach. Previously Korpitz was an assistant coach at El Dorado High School. He played football and was graduated from the University of New Mexico, where he received his B.S. in Business Education.

Rhames will be graduated from USC in June, receiving a B.A. in Physical Education. At Chaffey, Rhames will instruct the defensive line. He lettered four years in football and basketball at San Joaquin Memorial High Trojans on the varsity level and was a starter at middle guard and tackle in 1975-1976. Rhames received honorable mention All-America during the past season.

Newhouse will handle the defensive secondary at Chaffey. A graduate of the University at Nevada (Reno), Newhouse will be graduated this June with a B.S. in Physical Education and a teaching credential.

RECREATION — Montclair Recreation Department assistant leader Kathy Gatzke serves an easy one to assistant leader Doug Hodges (left) and leader Mark Schafer. The three are among summer recreation leaders for children's activities planned through Aug. 13 at Lehigh, Margarita, Monte Vista and Kingsley elementary and Vernon and Serrano junior high schools. The Recreation Department is also offering adult classes during the summer session. (Photo by Lynne Locke)

'Y' swimming lessons open

As part of the YMCA's aim to "drownproof America," the West End YMCA has announced a special Backyard Swim Program beginning this summer.

Guy E. Fish, 'Y' Director of health and physical education, announced registration begins today at the West End YMCA. Fee for the classes will be $7 for members and $10 for nonmembers for a two-week session.

"There are at least two good reasons for learning to swim," Fish said. The first is safety. Drownings are the third leading cause of accidental deaths in the United States. Two-thirds of the victims don't know how to swim. And there's no reason for it; just about anybody can be taught to swim.

Using the YMCA teaching method, most beginners can be taught to swim in five to ten lessons, Fish said. By the time they have completed the lessons, beginners should be able to safely swim at least 10 to 20 feet, and be ready for more advanced instruction, he said. Beginners successfully completing the course will be awarded YMCA certificates, he added.

Each year, Fish pointed out, the YMCA teaches nearly 600,000 beginners of all ages to swim. "Children learn more easily, but people of any age can be taught," he said. "The West End YMCA graduated 150 from its swim classes last year."

The second good reason for learning to swim, Fish said, is because it's fun. Aquatic sports are among the most popular forms of recreation, as well as an excellent way to keep physically fit, he pointed out. Such sports are boating, skin-diving and water-skiing. None of these should be attempted without first becoming a good swimmer, Fish emphasized.

Residents in Chino, Upland and Alta Loma who have a pool are also urged by Fish to contact the 'Y' because more pools are needed. Each class will be limited to 6 or 7 children. More pools are needed to allow each person who wants to learn to take part in the lessons.

Parents wishing more information on registration may telephone the West End YMCA at 986-5847.

The Town Crier

To help citizens of Upland better understand their city's responsibilities and to get answers on city government, John Shoemaker, Upland community relations coordinator, is bringing City Hall to the people through the courtesy of the Upland News. The column "The Town Crier" is designed to be informative on all issues of city government.

To reach "The Town Crier," write: Community Relations, City of Upland, 460 N. Euclid Ave., Upland, CA 91786. Persons should include their name, address and telephone number. Only initials will be listed in the column.

QUESTION: Your article on fire blight disease has been most enlightening. Can you now tell us something about poison plants that we might have on our property? M.T.

ANSWER: It just so happens that I have an article from a safety booklet that I will be most happy to share.

Every year several hundred children die from accidental poisoning; many others require medical attention. Mothers know that the family medicine chest and the kitchen cabinet filled with cleaning products are full of dangers for curious youngsters. But, many parents don't know that the backyard with its lovingly cultivated garden is just as full of poisonous possibilities for the exploring child.

Few people realize that at least 700 different plants grown in the United States and Canada are poisonous, and some are deadly. Everyone knows that eating wild mushrooms is a very risky business, but few know the many other common plants which are just as dangerous.

Some of the lethal plants most commonly found in gardens include hyacinth, narcissus, and daffodil bulbs, oleander leaves and branches, poinsettia leaves (one can kill a child), mistletoe berries, rhubarb leaves, azaleas, yew, cherry twigs and leaves, nightshade berries, and jimsonweed.

Other plants won't kill, but can make a child mighty sick. Some of these are lardspur, lilies-of-the-valley, buttercups, iris, acorns, and jack-in-the-pulpit.

To protect your children, teach them never to eat any plants - other than the fruits and vegetables you serve at the table, of course. If you suspect a child has sampled one of the forbidden plants, call the doctor immediately and follow his or her advice.

QUESTION: Can you tell me if the Upland Sister City Association will have competition for a queen candidate to represent the city at the Blanco y Negro Baile (White and Black Ball) in Caborca this year? S.M.

ANSWER: Yes. Contest plans are being worked on and should be completed sometime in late September.

QUESTION: We thought the city did not permit political campaign signs? S.M.

ANSWER: The Upland Municipal Code states that political campaign signs shall be permitted in any zoning district subject to the granting of a permit by the chief building official (Bob Sullivan) for each local, special, district, state, or national election. However, such signs must satisfy a number of conditions, too numerous to mention in this column. For more information please contact the Building Department.

Cypress Orthopedic

Top athletes win awards

Ontario - Montclair School District's Cypress Orthopedic School recently held its second sports awards assembly. Lou Cohenour, a scout with the California Angels baseball association, was the keynote speaker for the event.

The sports awards ceremony, begun during the 1974-75 school year by Mrs. Tracy Dombrowski, adaptive physical education instructor, recognized students who participated in two separate programs:

Cypress Orthopedic School's own Roadrunners Club; and the Crippled Children Services Sports Festival, held at Cal State, Northridge, on May 22.

The Roadrunners Club is a physical fitness program begun last year by Mrs. Dombrowski to develop leadership and teamwork abilities, to develop the ability to make and keep long-term goals and to promote physical fitness. Students who wheeled or ran 25, 50, 75 or 100 miles during the year received awards or trophies at the awards ceremony.

Students who competed in the crippled children sports festival at Cal State, Northridge, received ribbons at the assembly, and the school was presented a trophy for winning the event.

While some experts may question the value of a diploma, Kelly Gutsler, 2, has no doubts. Like many graduates of the preschool class at Montclair High School, she peered confidently, if somewhat crookedly, into the future. The class, taught by Joyce Shores, prepares high school students for jobs as nursery school aides.

Brian Brinegar (center below), was one of about 30 students, aged 2½ to 5, involved in graduation ceremonies. Sitting around him are some of the parents who enrolled their children in the program. Toddlers like Brian are supervised by high

Build community, character

Adventist youth sing

Teenage members of Covina Seventh-day Adventist Church recently serenaded San Dimas homes with Gospel songs accompanied by banjos and guitars as part of the "community and character thrust" of the church's Bicentennial program: "Four Cs for Century Three."

The "four Cs" include community, character, church, and campus beautification, according to Pastor Jerry Sorenson, who said youth members have prepared skits and musical numbers for community performances.

The Adventist group recently joined teenagers from the San Dimas Equestrian Center for an evening of songs around a campfire and presented a program at Starlight Mobile Home Park, North Azusa Avenue.

The program included a modern version of the "Good Samaritan" and as well as special numbers by the youth quartet.

The youth quartet includes Eric Sorenson, Cindy Huckleberry, and Mike Huckleberry, all of San Dimas.

Audience members participated in a "Heavenly Chatterers" skit which featured an inquiring guest and the Holy Spirit who were ignored by the "chattering" Christians.

The skit concluded with the guest walking out in frustration while the Holy Spirit left in desperation and the chatterers continued their discussion on Christian witness.

Sorenson said the teenage singers are available to perform for local groups and shut-ins. To arrange a performance call Cheryl Huckleberry, program coordinator, (213) 331-1556 or Eric Sorenson (714) 599-7755.

Music contest

Finals for the second annual Sound of Joy gospel music talent search will be held Aug. 22-Sept. 10 at the California State Fair. Ask for entry forms at local Christian book stores.

A writer's division is limited to three entries for gospel music writers. The singing divisions include male and female soloists, country groups, contemporary groups, Southern groups and church choirs.

A preliminary trial will be held in Los Angeles. Winners will receive a composite album.

Cholesterol

Cholesterol is manufactured by the body and is necessary for carrying out many natural functions. It is also present in certain foods we eat. Too much cholesterol gradually clogs the inner walls of the arteries, much like silt depositing on river banks, says the American Heart Association.

Missionaries start new rural project

Upland First United Methodist Church has honored Stan and Beryl Moore, who will return to mission work in Chile in early July. The Moores receive their support from nine U.S. congregations, including the Upland church, which is Stan's home congregation.

He will be part of a new project to serve the Mapuche Indians of the province of Cautin, where malnutrition is close to 100 per cent and farms average 1-4 acres. Moore said the project will "endeavor to help the Mapuche find a better way of life, spiritually and physically." Previously he was principal at El Vergel Agricultural School, the oldest agricultural school in Chile.

Moore was replaced at El Vergel by David Aracena, a Chilean university-trained agronomist and active Methodist layperson. Moore said establishment of a native Chilean as director of the school fulfills a "dream of many years."

The Moores have spent their six-month furlough in Cucamonga, where their children attended schools in English for the first time. Mrs. Moore also completed course work in music. Local residents can support the Moores' work with the Mapuche Indians by sending contributions to Treasurer, World Division, room 1545, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, N.Y. 10027. Contributions should be marked "Rural Project in Nueva Imperial, Chile."

Coloring books support ecology

Oonoose Q. Eckwoose, Energy Ant, Flake, Molly-Moo and a Dragon have enlisted in Uncle Sam's campaign to influence children.

The unusual personalities are among stars in coloring and story books that Uncle Sam is offering free to kids and-or their parents.

Uncle Sam also is giving away membership in the Johnny Horizon 1976 Nationwide Environmental Action and Awareness Campaign. The campaign aims to "clean up America for our 200th birthday." Kids who join get a card that says, "I pledge to help." They also get an official Johnny Horizon 1976 bumper sticker for bikes. The bumper sticker, tall and narrow, fits on a skinny fender.

The Johnny Horizon members get information sheets with tips on helping to clean up America. "Information Sheet 5," for example, gives "Rules to Rid Rats By." "Information Sheet 7" tells how to plant a tree. "Information Sheet 1" ticks off a lot of things that need to be done—like turning out yard lights in daytime.

Most of the free coloring books, many including games and puzzles, are available by writing to Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009. You must mention which free things you want.

A small consumer's guide to the gifts from Uncle Sam follows.

The Energy Ant
"Energy Activities with Energy Ant" is a color-and-learn book. The Energy Ant was created by the Federal Energy Administration to tell kids about energy and how to use it wisely.

Fun things in the booklet include "connect the dots," "unscramble the words," riddles, crossword puzzle, cutouts, an energy ant maze and an Energy Ant card game.

The Flake's Secret Plan
The Flake was created by Uncle Sam's health sleuths at the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, Ga. Write there for a free copy. The zip code is 30333.

In the booklet the Flake says: "Kids! Yeh! Here's my plan to get rid of them."

The Flake is a chip of paint and looks somewhat like a soda cracker. Every day he makes a bit of himself fall on the floor. A child comes along and, as the Flake says, "Heh, heh, heh! Eats ... and gets sick!"

The sickness is lead poisoning, a serious ailment children get when they eat lead paint. The booklet contains tips on how to keep the Flake and his noxious relatives from hurting boys and girls.

Professor Eckwoose
"The Thing the Professor Forgot" is a coloring and storybook put out by the Office of Communication, the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The main character is Oonoose Q. Eckwoose, a professor of foodology.

"If you're going to be smart, be clever and shrewd, be sure to know there are four groups of food," Eckwoose tells children who live in a rickety, four-storied house—with a mouse, Cleo the cat, and Caesar, the dog.

He tells all about the food groups. Parents, meanwhile, are told to read the professor's book to their children.

Other free storybooks, games and such from the Department of Agriculture include "Food Is More Than Just Something To Eat" and "Good Food News for Children"—a set of four.

Fred, the Horse, Likes Bread
Mary Mutton, Gussie Goose, Molly-Moo and Fred—the horse who likes bread—acquaint children with food groups.

Gussie introduces the fruit and vegetable group. Mary Mutton, the meat group. Molly-Moo, the dairy group. and Fred, breads and cereals.

There are drawings to color, puzzles, completion tests and stories about the food groups. There is also an economics lesson.

In each of the food groups the main animal character tells how much the farmer gets when Mom pays so much for meat or bread or milk or lettuce.

Fred, for example, says if Mother pays 35 cents a pound for bread the farmer gets seven cents.

Volunteers help plan parks

SACRAMENTO — If you have an opinion on the state park system, the state Department of Parks and Recreation wants you.

The Department is looking for California citizens to serve on advisory committees to assist park system planners so the state can plan "park units that truly reflect the needs and desires of the people who will enjoy them," said department director Herbert Rhodes.

"The interest and participation of California citizens from broad social, cultural, and economic background are essential to maintaining a viable, responsive, and relevant planning and development program," Rhodes said.

Appointments to the advisory committees will be made starting about July 1, so interested people are urged to write immediately to the Department of Parks and Recreation, P.O. Box 2390, Sacramento, CA 95811.

State chart shows quake faults abound

Earthquake faults in California come in many lengths, three ages and abound by the thousands.

And they're all on a map — newly issued by the California Division of Mines and Geology — that locates more than 2,000 faults in the state and shows why a California resident finds it almost impossible to live somewhere away from an earthquake zone.

Some examples from the map, the first of its kind in a decade:

Residents of Caliente, a small town in Southern California, live near the White Wolf Fault, which has been active within the past 200 years. This places it in one of the three age groups, the one termed "historic" by state geologists. In fact, this fault "moved" in 1952, registering 7.7 on the Richter scale and causing extensive damage in the Bakersfield area.

Residents of Redding live near two faults — Hoadley and Spring Creek — both classified as having moved sometime since the earth was formed.

The longest fault in California? The famous San Andreas, of course. With offshoots called Hayward, Palo Colorado-San Gregorio and San Jacinto, to name a few, it extends from Humboldt County to the Salton Sea and beyond.

The significance of fault length is that a geologic rule-of-thumb says the longer the fault the stronger the possible earthquake.

The shortest on the map? Hundreds and hundreds, each about a mile long, clustered along the state's eastern boundary, in the Napa-Sonoma wine country, in the deserts of San Bernardino County, along the central coast from Monterey south, near Santa Monica and along the Sierra foothills in California's Mother Lode.

Researchers advise about marriage books

NEW YORK — Sex researchers William H. Masters and Virginia E. Johnson said today they are "deeply concerned" over the growing dependence of American women on books that offer pat solutions to marriage problems.

"When a marriage is in deep trouble, stereotyped advice of the do-it-yourself variety can be damaging," the famous husband and wife team asserted in an article for the current issue of Redbook magazine.

Emphasizing they have no desire to serve as book critics, Masters and Johnson examined two books which encourage women to be submissive in their relationships with their husbands.

While acknowledging that "oc-asionally" both "The Total Woman" and "Fascinating Womanhood" offer some constructive advice, Masters and Johnson said they also "perpetuate many inaccuracies about the nature of sexual response." And "they specifically promote old beliefs and patterns of marital behavior that have long been recognized as frequent sources of problems between husband and wife — especially sexual problems."

"This is an era of do-it-yourself psychiatry and of often ill-advised, self-help literature," Masters and Johnson explained. "It also is an era of extreme vulnerability for women in their expression of sexuality and their man-woman relationships . . .

(and) we are concerned many women (and their husbands) may ultimately be hurt because they are so vulnerable to packaged, cookbook answers to their problems."

In an attempt to discover why so many young women have been attracted by the philosophies of these two books Masters and Johnson interviewed a number of them and found that 60 per cent were looking for a way to fulfill expectations they had had of marriage before they were married.

Although they agreed that a woman who is unhappy in her marriage is "justified in choosing any method (of help) that seems right to her," Masters and Johnson said the methods advocated by these books "do not go forward but a long way backward, and not to the good old ways, but to the worst old ways."

Masters and Johnson, who co-direct the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation in St. Louis, are contributing editors of Redbook.

Living With Your Heart

The smoking habit

By GLENN A. LANDER
M.D., President
American Heart Association,
Greater Los Angeles
Affiliate

It has been more than 10 years since the surgeon general's warning of the health hazard in smoking first appeared on cigarette packs.

Yet people continue to smoke and I believe there are more brands of cigarettes on the market now than ever before.

I will say, however, they are not as "dangerous" as they were in the past because attempts have been made to reduce injurious agents, such as tar and nicotine.

But, nevertheless, a the surgeon general pointed out in his report, "The truly and totally safe cigarette is still far off."

Despite the warnings, it remains a fact that many people are just not going to stop this health-robbing habit. What can be done is to reduce the number of new smokers. These new smokers are children and teenagers and I find a great challenge in preventing them from taking up this habit. Most smokers acquire the habit when they are quite young and in recent years the age of starting has significantly lowered. This is true not only in this nation but other countries as well.

The World Health Organization reports that four characteristics seem to be more common among young smokers than nonsmokers. They are likely to have parents who smoke; are apt to do less well in school; usually have friends who smoke; and, finally, some youngsters smoke as a symbol of independence and rebellion against their parents.

Teachers, especially popular ones, who smoke also influence their students by example. The schools can help by developing an effective, antismoking educational program which should begin in the first grade through high school.

Although the tobacco industry discontinued advertising in college newspapers and other campus publications following the issuance of the surgeon general's report, students are still subject to the influence of cigarette advertising in newspapers, magazines, billboard ads, and even attend sports and other events sponsored by cigarette companies and named for their brands.

I have seen vending machines carrying a warning against use by minors — but no one seems to be responsible for preventing youngsters from using the machine.

As in all health matters, family physicians have a special responsibility in persuading his patients — adult or child — to give up cigarette smoking. They can do a great deal toward preventing the diseases associated with smoking if they would warn all their patients of the hazards — before they contract any of the dread diseases that may develop.

A survey taken several years ago revealed that only a fifth of the smokers covered by the study had ever been warned by their physicians. In another study, in which the physicians themselves were interviewed, almost two-thirds said they did not urge their patients to stop smoking unless they had a condition directly related to it.

Excessive smoking can help induce poor circulation which, in turn, can have ill effects on many parts of the body — especially the heart. The latest statistics from the American Heart Association state that a man who smokes more than one pack a day has nearly twice the risk of heart attack and nearly five times the risk of stroke as the nonsmoker. Something to think about.

Aside from the health aspects, consider the fact that careless handling of cigarettes, such as smoking in bed, have led to lives lost and homes burned.

Write or call the American Heart Association, Greater Los Angeles Affiliate, 2405 W. Eighth St., Los Angeles, CA, 90057; (213) 385-4231, for their free literature on this subject.

Yawn, Stretch... And Pop A Pain In The Back!

By Dr. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

What does it mean when you yawn or stretch and suddenly get sharp pain in the back?

The crick or catch, or call it what you like is a danger signal not to be ignored.

What happens is that the person is experiencing a rib popping out of position.

Usually the individual can work it back into place by doubling up and pulling his arms cross-ways across his body. However, it's a surefire indication that the individual has misplaced vertebrae in his upper back.

And it is a somber portent of things to come. The most common of the complications of a popping rib are neuritis and neuralgia. The popping rib can easily cause bursitis. And one of the most serious complications is shingles.

Consider shingles, for example. Once a rib pops out... unless the misaligned vertebrae is corrected... it will most surely happen again. Each recurrence weakens the muscle structure and it takes progressively less and less effort for the rib to pop out again.

With each incident of the popped rib then serves in the affected area become over-extended to the point that a virus attack follows. Pimples then rise over these affected areas causing a severe itching accompanied by severe pain.

Incidentally this is not a night-marish condition that effects only an unfortunate few. It is a common, most painful condition that requires correction at the source of the difficulty... that misaligned vertebrae.

And the person who believes he can always self-correct a popped rib is on a one-way street to serious difficulty.

Remember, as the wise man once said, "a little learning is a dangerous thing." It's enough that the person read the danger signal properly and seek immediate correction of the serious problem.

Do you have a question?

Workshop will feature sharing

UCLA Extension will introduce a new five-session workshop June 21 for couples and others who find it hard to share their thoughts and feelings honestly, directly and appropriately.

The program, "Talk to Me," is open to the general public. It will deal with the skills and techniques of active listening and receiving sensitive, valid feedback.

It is designed to help improve the communication process between couples and will consider communication styles which can enhance a relationship.

Dione K. Sommers, counselor, California Human Development Center, and Phoebus Tongas, clinical psychologist and chief of psychology, Kaiser Permanente Medical Center, will coordinate the program.

Lectures and discussion sessions will be combined with experimental exercises to facilitate communication and foster intimacy. Emphasis will be on developing skills that do not violate the other person's basic right to his/her personal integrity and value system.

The workshop will meet Mondays through July 25 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 2142 Life Science Bldg., UCLA. There is a fee. For information, call UCLA Extension weekdays at (213) 825-4411.

'Jubilee' presentation set

Reeder's Dance Arts Studio of Ontario will present music and dance celebration at Garrison Theatre in Claremont on June 19 at 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the Garrison Theatre box office.

In honor of our country's 200th birthday, the studio's biannual dance presentation, "Jubilee," travels through our history highlighting such memorable and picturesque periods as the Gay Nineties, the Westward Movement, and the Birth of the Blues in the South. Through each phase of our cultural development portrayed, the costume and music provide us with a glimpse into our colorful, cultural past. Featuring a cast of seventy, the performers are all students, ranging in age from five to forty-five, representing San Bernardino, Riverside, and Los Angeles Counties. These performers do not make-up the entire body of students attending classes at Reeder's, but are chosen on a voluntary basis, separate from class, having gained enough skills to benefit by doing the show.

The show features Linda Paige, a B.A. candidate in Performing Dance at U.C. Irvine, who has recently appeared in the ballet "Billy the Kid" choreographed by Eugene Loring. Also featured is David Saeger who has been doing an international tour with the group "Musical Americans" and has appeared in the Chaffey College productions of "Carousel" and "Brigadeen." Other featured dancers include Andrea Povala, Diane Kim, Patti Garner, and Kimberly Reeder.

The show is produced, directed, and choreographed by Christy and George Reeder. The Reeder's have these performances every two years in order to give their serious dance students an opportunity to experience a professional production. They employ a professional crew for costuming, lights, and scenery, which not only enhances the production but gives the cast of aspiring dancers and singers the chance to work with a professional crew.

Perform a death-defying act.

Exercise regularly.

Arts workshops and music scheduled in the morning

Three arts workshops for Mt. San Antonio College district children from 3 years to 14 will open June 28 on the campus and Hollywood Bowl Open House East will present four music groups for morning concerts beginning July 12.

Reservations for the Junior Arts Workshops are being accepted in the MSAC Community Services Office, Ext. 361. Class sizes are limited so early reservations are strongly advised to assure placement in each class.

Adventures in Seeing, for 3 to 5 year olds, will be taught by Marsia Alexander from 9:30 to 11:30 each Monday and Wednesday. Alexander will also instruct mixed media workshop for 6 to 10 year olds from 1 to 3 p.m., also on Mondays and Wednesdays. And Jan Rathel will conduct a class in Dimensional Fibers for 9 to 14 year olds each Tuesday and Thursday from 1 to 3 p.m.

Each class will run for one month. Adventures in Seeing and Mixed Media will begin on June 28 and run to July 21. Fibers will open on June 29 and continue to July 20. July 5 will be a holiday for all classes. A registration fee is charged.

Hollywood Bowl Open House East is a concert series sponsored by the College for District children of all ages. Through the Los Angeles Philharmonic Association, the College will present two performances each hour, at 9:15 and 10:15 each Monday through Friday, July 12 to 16 and July 19 to 23.

Betsy Brown's Bilingual Puppets and Larry Stein's Alive Ensemble will perform during the first week. The Aman Folk Ensemble and the Lyric Assembly will be center stage for the second week of concerts.

All concerts are free to school children in the MSAC District. Reservations are required for all groups.

Organ music fest to be first of kind

A home organ music festival featuring a number of professional artists playing on their favorite electronic instruments will be held Sunday, June 27, at 1:30 p.m. in Gardiner Spring Auditorium, Chaffey High School, 1245 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario.

The first event of its kind to be held in the West End will feature "easy listening" music written by composers such as Irving Berlin, George Gershwin and Bert Bacharach and nostalgic melodies of the big band era.

Electronic organs are currently enjoying popularity, outselling pianos four to one, according to Mrs. James Fryman, president of the West End Symphony Orchestra Association. The festival will benefit the orchestra which presents free concerts several times a year, as well as the local chapter of the Young Organists of America.

"MODEL-ETTS" HELPS CURB YOUR APPETITE HELPS YOU LOSE THAT EXTRA WEIGHT! NO CALORIE COUNTING! NO EXERCISES! NO SPECIAL DIETS!

Thanks to a group of New York doctors, you can now lose pounds of ugly fat without going on any special diet, without cutting out any special foods.

HELPS REDUCE HUNGRY MOMENTS

These New York doctors discovered a food adjunct called "MODEL-ETTS." "Model-etts" does remarkable things. It helps you cut down your caloric intake by a natural automatic curbing of the appetite and of the desire for foods, resulting automatically in a reduced intake of food.

The doctors carefully checked results, and here is what they found: 1. Weight losses of 6 to 20 pounds without any ill effects whatsoever. 2. 98% of the men and women who used "Model-etts" lost weight. "Model-etts" is absolutely safe. It is a food adjunct—not a drug. So, start today to shed those unwanted pounds and inches. If your condition is glandular or organic, see your doctor. "Model-etts" may help you stay on the diet your doctor recommends. Ask him about it.

One "Model-etts" Wafer has the hunger satisfying capacity of 1 pound boiled potatoes or 4 eggs or 5 slices of white bread, yet it contains only 6 calories.
